About the speaker: Angelos Kapellos (University of Ioannina), a classicist specializing in Greek literature and history of the classical period. His main research interests are Greek historiography and the Attic orators. Among his key publications are a commentary on Lysias 21 (Berlin 2014) and a monograph on the Hellenica of Xenophon (Xenophon's Peloponnesian War; Berlin 2019). In addition to this he has published edited volumes and several articles on these subjects in internationally recognized periodicals.
